Redvers, Carlyle Fire Departments awarded Premier's Commendation Medallion

BY NICOLE TAYLOR
LOCAL JOURNALISM
INITIATIVE REPORTER

Redvers and Carlyle Fire Departments have each received a Premier's Commendation at a ceremony in Regina on December 2 for their roles in helping to fight the wildfires in northern Saskatchewan.

Multiple members of Redvers Fire and Rescue and the Carlyle Fire Department traveled to Northern Saskatchewan to assist in fighting off a historically destructive wildfire season.

Redvers Fire Chief Brad Hutton attended the awards and accepted it on his department's behalf.

"The Premier's Commendation is for going above and beyond to protect and serve your community, and it was awarded to the whole department. There were also individual pins given to each individual that went up north to help as well," said Hutton.

"There were four of us that went up north. We took our tanker truck, which is a 2,000 gallon pumper unit, and we were placed an hour and a half north of Prince Albert at Weyakwin. We patrolled along Highway 2 and helped protect the village of Weyakwin, and prevented fire from getting to those structures. We also went to Ramsey Bay, and the area east of Montreal Lake, and protected structures out that way.

"I was there in 2015, and then we mostly did protection of villages and sprinkler systems, but this time we did a lot more work with SPSA and other crews in the area to get in and put out fires.

"Being that we had the tanker truck, we spent a good amount of time wetting down properties and keeping ponds full for sprinkler systems, and then we were also mixing up a fire-retardant substance with water and spraying down power poles and entire structures with it."

Hutton says that the work was at times intense.

"One night when we were east of Montreal Lake and we went out after supper, we were driving on a real tight one-way road through all of the smoke and ash. It was pretty scary that night. Once we got in there we were starting to put out some of the smaller fires and wondering how we were planning to get back out. Our last resort was always jumping in the lake if it all went bad."

The experience, Hutton said, was something he's proud to have been a part of.

"There's obviously a lot of good experiences that come out of bad experiences. Numerous departments like Warman, Martensville, we worked with Lumsden quite a bit, Humboldt—as bad as a situation is you learn a lot of new faces and you work as a group and as a family. You're not just protecting the land and buildings, you're protecting each other."

He said the decision to help up north was a tough one, but the right one in the end.

"We saw that the call came out, and a few guys decided that we should go and try to help however we can. I was quite busy at the time, my Fire Chiefs' Conference was supposed to be the weekend after, so I was a bit hesitant to go at first. After I thought about it, I ended up putting my name in to SPSA. I've been on the Saskatchewan Fire Chiefs' Board for four years so I know the SPSA president pretty well and he was the one spearheading this. I sent him a message and said I have myself and at least a couple other guys and a tanker truck and that we were willing to come. Little did I know that I'd be packing my bags three hours later to leave the next morning."

Hutton says that while it was his second time doing something like this, it was a first for the department.

"Three or four of us went in 2015, but not with our own equipment. We teamed up and went with a few Carlyle guys that time," he says.

In Hutton's words, the Premier's Commendation awards "caught us completely by surprise."

"First of all, you never really expect anything, we're just doing it because we want to help and it's the right thing to do. Getting the award was a real honour. Just that feeling of knowing what you're doing is helping and that someone has your back is really nice. They are also trying to plan for the future and making sure that other people will be willing to step up to the plate if something comes this way again," he said.

Hutton said that the ceremony took place at the Legislative building, and that the group of representatives from each department being awarded was invited into the Legislative assembly for the sitting.

"We were introduced in during the sitting and we were commended for bravery and service to the province."

The Premier's Commendation Medallion existed from 2012 to 2018, and was brought back early in 2025. Premier Scott Moe has said that the award is given to "those whose actions exemplify courage, responsibility and service to others."

During the awards ceremony Premier Moe said, "Those honoured today responded decisively in moments of great need, demonstrating the strength of character and commitment that uphold the values of our province."

Don VanMeer accepted the medallion on behalf of the Carlyle Fire Department. He says Carlyle had rotating crews that went up north, including firefighters from the surrounding towns.

"When it all started I contacted our volunteer association to see if they knew if they were looking for help or not and they confirmed back that they were," he says. "Then I got a call from Howard Jorgenson, he was looking after stuff up north from the volunteer side. We had a truck up there in 2015 and it was the same truck that could go up and he called me back about an hour later and asked if we could have that truck up there in the morning with four guys."

"And they wanted our tanker and I knew Redvers had a tanker so I called Brad (Hutton) in Redvers.

"Within 24 hours we sent both units up north.

"We had the man power and equipment and we could help out. We're fairly well looked after in this area and we have extra equipment and had guys who were trained firefighters for 15 or 20 years and I put it out to them if they wanted to go, and we sent some guys up."

"It's pretty overwhelming to be able to pull it all together and do it."

"We ended up 52 days in the north, 56 days that truck worked, and we just kept switching up guys from different departments, so we sent them up there with the truck. At times there were other departments completely running our truck."

"It was an overwhelming summer keeping it organized. We are all trained at that same level. It was pretty educational but it was good. It was good to see that volunteer association come together."

He says the Premier's Commendation was a big honor.

"It's pretty prestigious in our sense of what we do. It was nice to be noticed and even more nice for the guys that took the time from their families and went up there and took the time."

"It was pretty awesome. It was overwhelming to go into the Legislature and see all the members of the Legislature stand up and show their appreciation to the people of the volunteer association who took time to do it."

"Everybody came home, that was the main thing, and we appreciate the SPSA looking after the guys up there as well. They were feeding them and looking after them and making sure they came in at night, and making sure they got home."

Carlyle Fire Chief Ken Hewitt was one of the people who went up north. There were seven firefighters who went up north over a month and a half.

"We tried to send a four man crew at all times," he says.

"The first time, two of our guys and a truck and two from Redvers went with their tanker and that was our four man crew. We were up there for 10 days the first time and then kept switching guys out. We had two or three from Carnduff, one from Manor, one from Swift Current who were with us or running our trucks."

"For some of them it was very intense. When I was up there it was more near the tail end. The first batch got in on some pretty good fires. The first few were looking after assets homes and power poles and anything that has a cash value to it."

"Why did they do it? It's part of the fire department, we are here to serve," says Hewitt.

"They were looking for trucks bad, they needed manpower and trucks up there. It was a good experience."

He said it was also a learning experience.

"I learned that you can throw together five different fire departments from different areas of the province and they all come together and work together as if they've worked together forever. It's amazing how people just come together that are all like minded and just hop in and go to work. No questions asked, you ask somebody else to do something and it gets done. You can tell that everyone trains to a similar level and it all works, it's quite phenomenal to see."

"I was quite happy and very proud that we got the commendation, because they don't just give those out to anybody. The department was very proud to get it."

Hewitt says if there is a wildfire season again next year, Carlyle Fire Department is ready for it.

"We've already got our name in," he says. "All we have to do is say the word and they'll start packing their bags."

Sask exports have global reach

Data from the Ministry of Trade and Export Development and the Saskatchewan Trade and Export Partnership (STEP) show global demand for Saskatchewan goods remained high in 2024. The value of shipments from the province to the rest of the world totaled $45.3 billion last year.

"Saskatchewan's economy is built on exports, in fact, we export 70 per cent of what we produce," Trade and Export Development Minister Warren Kaeding said. "These numbers are a sign of a robust economy that is delivering for our citizens, with more capital flowing into the province thanks to our export sectors, we are able to focus on providing the infrastructure and services to Saskatchewan people that they rely on."

Through its network of nine international trade and investment offices, Saskatchewan has explored new export markets while strengthening existing ones. In 2024, exports from the province reached more than 160 countries, exemplifying the success of Saskatchewan's exporters.

"Saskatchewan exporters continue to demonstrate their resilience and global competitiveness," Saskatchewan Trade and Export Partnership President and CEO Chris Lane said. "These strong results reflect the coordinated efforts of industry and government to open new markets and STEP is proud to enable and support bringing Saskatchewan products to the world."

Saskatchewan continues to be a safe and reliable supplier of critical minerals including potash and uranium, crude oil, wheat, canola, pulses, canola oil, agricultural machinery, steel, wood products and more. All of these place the province in an excellent position to withstand current global trade uncertainties.

The province's strong export sectors have led to significant growth in the provincial economy. Private capital investment in Saskatchewan increased last year by 17.3 per cent to $14.7 billion, ranking first among provinces. Private capital investment is projected to reach $16.2 billion in 2025, an increase of 10.1 per cent over 2024. This is the second highest anticipated percentage increase among the provinces.

Last year, the Government of Saskatchewan unveiled its new Securing the Next Decade of Growth - Saskatchewan's Investment Attraction Strategy. This strategy, combined with Saskatchewan's trade and investment website, InvestSK.ca, contains helpful information for investors and outlines why Saskatchewan is the best place to do business in Canada.

OBITUARIES

GIB LLOYD
JULY 9, 1936 -
DECEMBER 19, 2025

The world grew a little quieter with the passing of Gib Lloyd, a man who filled his days—and the lives of those around him—with humor, kindness, and unwavering love.

Born on July 9, 1936, Gib lived a life rich with meaning and purpose. His life was defined by the love and pride he had for his family, who were always at the center of everything he did.

For more than 60 years, he shared life with his beloved wife, Doreen—a partnership built on love, laughter, a daily rye, and the occasional eyeroll (usually hers). Together they raised three daughters—Roxanne, Kelly, and Nicole. Gib loved his girls with all his being. He taught them the value of hard work, education, and resilience, through the steady, consistent way he lived his life and the occasional speech (if you knew Gib, you know about his speeches!).

He never once felt slighted that he didn't have sons; in fact, he opined that raising daughters required more skill anyway. With that said, he was overjoyed when his girls got married and brought Murray, Kevin, and Jason into his life. He gained the sons he never knew he was missing. Gib loved those boys for caring for his girls and for balancing out the male/female ratio in the family.

But when the grandkids arrived, something in Gib's heart shifted into an even higher gear. His love, already strong, grew exponentially with the arrival of Colton, Blaize, Kendal, and Jadyin. They unlocked a whole new level of joy in him—the kind that comes with hugs sticky from pop-sicles, stories told for the hundredth time, and the quiet pride of watching generations grow. That joy deepened as he watched them mature into adulthood, marry, and welcome

Gabby, Tanya, and Coleton into the family he cherished so dearly.

Just when he thought life couldn't get any better, Gib became a Great-Grandpa. His daughters often remarked that Milly, Chet, and Brooks brought a noticeable "pep to his step." His tenderness, patience, and awe for the little ones was unparalleled. Alas, Gib's "favorite daughter" had to concede that she had been lovingly de-throned as his number one by the Great Grands.

Gib was known for his quick wit, mischievous smile, intelligence, and the way he could turn everyday moments into stories worth retelling. He carried strength, kindness, and humor in equal measure.

Though he is no longer Earth side, the legacy he leaves is woven into the lives of those he loved: the values he taught, the laughter he sparked, and the family who will continue to hear his voice reminding them to work hard, stick together, and keep their sense of humor.

He will be dearly missed, but his spirit—and his stories—will live on for generations.

There will be a celebration of life for family and friends in the spring.

ELSIE MCCOLL
AUGUST 20, 1930 -
DECEMBER 29, 2025

horn, Manitoba on Monday, December 29, 2025, surrounded by family. Elsie was 95 years old.

Elsie is survived by her sons and daughters-in-law Roy (Rhonda), Vance (Brenda Lee), and Glen (Shelly); grandchildren Charlotte (Conrad), Travis (Jacqueline), Brodie (Stacy), Ceanna (Bryce), Taylor (Aisling), Logan, Braden (Cass), and Mac (Emma); along with 11 great-grandchildren; sister-in-law Shirley (Jim) McColl; and many nephews, nieces and extended family members.

Elsie was predeceased by her parents Henry and Anna Kliever; her mother and father-in-law Constance and Alfred McColl; her husband Glen; her brothers George, Frank (Annie), Jake (Mary), Dave (Esther); her sister Anne (Cecile Perlette and Jake Duck); and Glen's siblings: Roy, Bert, Ron (Rosemary), Jack (Bev), Margaret (Bill) Bartley, and Jim.

Elsie was born August 20, 1930 on the family farm, the youngest of six children and the only member of the family born in Canada.

Elsie enjoyed farm living and spent the majority of her life in and around the community of Elkhorn. She enjoyed school and had thoughts of becoming a teacher, but for various reasons chose to go to work in Elkhorn instead.

On December 20, 1952, Elsie married the love of her life, Glen Douglas McColl, and they spent just over 53 years in holy matrimony. Much of their time together was spent on their farm five miles east of Elkhorn (Tower View Farm), working tirelessly to make ends meet while raising three sons and contributing and volunteering to the communities in which they lived (Elkhorn and Hargrave).

Once her husband Glen passed in March 2006, however, the love of the farm was never the same, and in 2007, the farm was sold. Elsie moved to Elkhorn and lived independently in her own home and in Elkview Lodge.

Then, in 2018, Elsie's health took a turn for the worst when a fall caused fractures in several vertebrae. Under her doctors' advice, Elsie applied for and received admission into Elkwood Manor.

On numerous occasions Elsie commented on how wonderful everyone was at the Manor and how well she was treated.

Over the years, Elsie made many decisions that made things much easier for her sons. For example, she decided when she no longer wanted to drive; she spent one year on the farm by herself and then made the decision that it was time to sell; she knew when it was time to move into Elkview Lodge; and she decided when it was time for her to apply for admission into Elkwood Manor.

Elsie McColl was a wonderful human being who will be sorely missed by all who knew her. And the legacy that she leaves behind for all of us to aspire to is that of love.

A legacy of love.

A private graveside service will be held at Elkhorn Cemetery at a later date.

For those who so desire, memorial tributes may be made to the charity of their choice in memory of Elsie.

ROBERT GUY GOUGH (BOB)
DECEMBER 10, 2025

Robert Guy Gough (Bob) passed away at Melville nursing home on December 10, 2025. Bob was born in Welby, Saskatchewan and was the fifth son of Bloomfield and Rosa Gough.

He was a carpenter most of his life, starting with his dad and then he worked for Jack Barker. In later years, he worked by himself. In 1997, he married Shirley Louma (Odgers) and into this marriage also came Shirley's daughters, Denise and Brenda.

Bob was predeceased by his parents Bloomfield and Rosa Gough, brothers George, Harlow, Ben and Ron Gough and infant brother David, sisters-in-law Helen Gough, Doreen Gough, and Bev Gough, niece Karen Hilgers, and brother-in-law Don Odgers.

He is survived by his wife Shirley Gough, brother Lorne (Sandra) Gough, step-daughters Denise (Brian) and Brenda, six grandchildren, 12 great-grandchildren, nephews

Brad (Verna) Gough and families, Dean Gough, great nieces and nephews Tracey Dietrich, Warren Hilgers, Rhonda (Justin) Busse, Ryan (Rhea) Hilgers and family, Fred (Cheryl) Odgers, sister-in-law Rosalie Odgers, and brother-in-law Robert Odgers.

Robert's loves in life were his family, baseball, music and keeping his yard neat and clean.

A service was held on Sunday, December 20, 2025 at the Tantallon Community Hall with Rev. Jean Istace officiating. Donations can be made to the Spy Hill Cemetery Fund or The Bethany (Lutheran Care Home, Melville) in Robert's memory. Peter Carscadden Funeral Service in care of arrangements. 306-745-3304.

Westman RCMP Report

26 calls for service

During the week of December 21-27, Westman RCMP received a total of 26 calls for service. Some of these calls for service include eight traffic offences, one well-being check, two mental health related calls, one false alarm, one 911 Act call, four Assistance to Canadian Agencies, two assaults, one suspicion person, one Fail to Comply with Order and one impaired operation file.

Speeding in town of Virden

On December 24 during routine traffic patrols within the town of Virden, RCMP observed a vehicle travelling at a high rate of speed. Radar confirmed a speed of 133 km/hr in a 100 km/hr zone. RCMP initiated a traffic stop, and the driver was issued a Traffic Offence Notice for Speeding, which carries a fine of $482.

Driver impaired by THC

On December 24, RCMP responded to a report of an erratic driver in the RM of Wallace-Woodworth. Members located the vehicle and conducted a traffic stop. Upon arrival, members completed a sobriety check with a 20-year-old male. The driver showed signs of impairment, and the ADSE test resulted positive for THC. The driver was issued a three-day license suspension.

Two arrested for assault

On December 26, RCMP responded to a report of a domestic assault in the Settlement of Sioux Valley Dakota Nation. The complainant reported that his ex-partner had assaulted him by punching him in the head. Members attended the residence along with EMS. Members obtained a statement from the complainant and located the accused who was arrested for assault. Members obtained a statement from the accused who claimed she was initially assaulted by the complainant. The complainant and the accused were arrested for one count of assault. Both were released on an undertaking to appear in court in February.

JOB OPPORTUNITY

OFFICE MANAGER | FULL-TIME | IN-OFFICE

About the Role

After many great years with us, our Office Manager is retiring on March 31, 2026. We are now searching for the right person to step into this important position and continue running our accounting, payroll, HR, safety, and day-to-day administration with the same care and accuracy our team has come to rely on.

This role reports directly to the General Manager and offers real variety, ownership, and the chance to be the person who keeps everything organized and on track.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

Accounting & Payroll (major component of the role)

- Full ownership of semi-monthly payroll (multiple payroll streams)
- Monthly bank, Visa, and general ledger reconciliations
- All government remittances (GST, PST, source deductions, corporate taxes, etc.)
- Weekly cheque runs, digital deposits, royalty invoicing
- Month-end and year-end journal entries and balancing
- T4/T4A preparation and filing
- RRSP & pension contribution tracking and monthly submissions

Human Resources & Benefits

- Full-cycle onboarding and offboarding
- Administer group benefits and RRSP/pension plans including annual renewals
- Maintain HR policies, employee files, and legislative compliance
- Co-ordinate employee events and recognition programs

Health & Safety Co-ordination

- Maintain and update safety manuals
- Schedule OHS walkabouts, record minutes, and follow up on action items
- Schedule hearing tests (company-wide every two years) and First Aid training
- Track and post safety statistics; organize safety awards

General Administration

- Maintain company social media accounts (Facebook, LinkedIn, Instagram) with GM approval
- Keep ISNetworld compliance current (quarterly reporting)
- Co-ordinate trade shows and promotional materials
- Oversee janitorial contracts and office supplies
- Assist with immigration/SINP paperwork when required

What We're Looking For

- 5+ years in senior office management or administration with significant accounting and payroll responsibility
- Post-secondary education in business, accounting, or human resources (or equivalent experience)
- Payroll Compliance Practitioner (PCP) designation is an asset – we will support certification if needed
- Advanced Excel skills and experience with accounting/payroll software
- Strong working knowledge of Saskatchewan employment, tax, and OHS regulations
- Exceptional organizational skills and a calm, accurate approach to multiple deadlines

We Offer

- Competitive salary ($75,000 – $95,000+ depending on experience)
- Comprehensive benefits and company pension/RRSP program
- 3-4 weeks' vacation
- Flexible start date: mid-February to March 2026
- Paid training and overlap period with our retiring Office Manager

If you are interested in this position, please send your resume along with references to shelley@goodmansteel.com and jeff@goodmansteel.com

Only those applicants that have been selected for an interview will be contacted.
