McNaughton celebrates 50 years

McNaughton High School in Moosomin celebrated the school's 50th anniversary Wednesday Nov. 16.

Students participated in a fun "Guess the Tune" activity where students from each grade had to guess the song playing from a particular decade that the school was present in.

After the game, students and staff enjoyed the school's "Happy 50th McNaughton High School" anniversary cake.

Right: Students from each team were given the chance to guess the names of songs from the 70s, 80s, 90s and 2000s, representing each decade that McNaughton was present in.

Above: All the students at the school got a piece of cake in celebration of the school's anniversary.

OBITUARIES

Tim Dlouhy
September 6, 1962
November 6, 2022

It is with heavy hearts that we announce the death of Timothy Gene Dlouhy at the age of 60 years.

Tim, by far the greatest teacher of our lives, is the heart and soul of his entire family.

Throughout his amazing life with the family he was born into, and with the life he made with Penny, Jordan and Judd, he embraced the concept of living life to its fullest in every possible way.

His impact continues and will continue to bring people together in joy and in fun with his long-held belief that "we are not on a trial run." He awakened every day with living in mind.

At the age of 58, Tim was diagnosed with ALS, and he showed every human in his world what the true lived meaning of courage is.

Tim and his 'way of being' created a vibrant web, interwoven with family, friends, people, and leaders in his community and province.

His bonds to the people in this web go well beyond what anyone could imagine, and his contributions to many organizations throughout his communities are too great to grasp.

Tim's biggest joy in life was having all of the family together. He lived for seeing us all together and having us under one big roof.

He was always busy and always teaching someone something.

Tim loved to stay active and never sat still, always busy hunting, quadding, skiing, boating, travelling, coaching, golfing, involving himself in the community, fundraising, cooking, barbecuing, working, and mentoring.

Whatever he was doing, he wanted everyone else to be enjoying it with him.

During his last two years, he continued to stay engaged in all that he loved.

He remained steadfastly involved with his family in all their businesses to his very last moments, continuously mentoring and coaching Jordan and Judd into their roles.

His expressiveness and his will to work never wavered.

As tributes have poured in, it is clear he had many brother and sister relationships, and as one dear cousin wrote, "Tim was the definition of giving without having to take. . . he will be an amazing addition to the souls in heaven."

As one dear friend expressed, "We all have our stories, believe me, and there is not one of us that has a better story, because Tim treated us all the same."

Tim will be dearly missed by his wife Penny, daughter Jordan (Gary), son Judd (Sandy), granddaughter Violet and grand dogs Bentley and Blue; his mother Louise (Del) Mohl, and sisters Jody (Keith) Nelson, and Gia (Alan) Jane; Penny's siblings: Rick (June) Thompson, Doug (Diane) Thompson, Judy (Rick) Skulmoski, Joy (Kevin) MacDonald; and his beloved aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces and nephews.

He is laid to rest beside his father Reg, cousin Shaun, and his uncles John and Gene at St. Paul's Anglican Church Cemetery, Langbank, Saskatchewan.

A Celebration of Tim's Life will be held in the spring of 2023 at Round Lake, Saskatchewan.

Memorial donations in Tim's memory may be given to the Assiniboia Regional Park Authority for the Assiniboia Golf Course Box 1224 Assiniboia, SK. S0H 0B0 and the White-wood Golf Course Box 798 Whitewood, SK. S0G 5C0.

Muriel Marie Pateman
(nee McCormick)
February 15, 1931 -
November 9, 2022

Muriel Marie Pateman of Green Falls Landing, Regina and formerly Rocanville, Sask., passed away peacefully at the Pasqua Hospital on Wednesday, November 9, 2022, at the age of 91 years.

Muriel was predeceased by her husband Hartley; parents Alexander and Mary Ann McCormick; sisters Blanche (George) Zaran, Roberta (Gordon) Twist, Margaret (Peter) Shalovel, brother Charles (Joan) McCormick, half-brothers Alexander, Donald and Lawrence McDonald.

Muriel is survived by sons Blair (Lorie) of Weyburn; grandchildren Carla (Luke) and great-granddaughter Ada of Emerald Park, Sask.; Stephanie of Kelowna, British Columbia; and Brad (Twyla), grandchildren Hayley (Evan) of Burnaby, British Columbia and Cameron of Regina.

She also leaves to mourn her sister Edith (Henry, deceased) Klatt, sister-in-law Evelynne Brennand, cousin Rusty McCormick along with nieces and nephews.

Muriel was born February 15, 1931, the second of six children at St. Andrew's colony near Wapella, Sask.

She attended school in Wapella before quitting in Grade 10 to work; it was while working at the general store, she met Hartley Pateman.

On September 27, 1952 she married her true love at St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Church. They enjoyed 53 years of marriage living in Wapella, Sask.; Basswood, Man.; Alameda, Sask. and Rocanville, Sask.

Muriel believed she was put on this earth to serve. As wife to Hartley and mother to sons Blair and Brad, caring for her family was paramount.

Muriel was hard-working, efficient, an immaculate housekeeper and more than willing to work at whatever community event in which her family was involved.

Later, nothing pleased her more than the time she spent with her grandchildren and more recently her cherished great-granddaughter. She was proud of them all.

Beyond her immediate family, she held dear close relationships with her siblings, cousins, nieces and nephews.

Her sister, Edie, continued to be her most frequent companion in recent months.

She cared deeply for her extended family in Rocanville, across the street and beyond.

In the community Muriel was generous with her time, her finances, and her praise.

She baked many delicious pies and always had a Rice Krispie cake on hand in case it was needed somewhere.

She volunteered at the Rocanville Thrift Store for nearly 20 years. Muriel treasured the time she lived in Alameda and Rocanville and the life-long friends she made along the way.

She especially enjoyed the Rocanville happy hour in the garage with the door open to welcome friends or whoever happened to be walking by.

She was an avid curling fan and a devout Roman Catholic, whose church community was also very important to her.

She was a loving wife, mother and grandmother and will be sadly missed by family and friends.

If friends so desire, memorial tributes may be made to the Moosomin and District Health Care Foundation for SEICC, in memory of Muriel.

A family graveside gathering will be held at St. Andrew's Cemetery at a future date.

Friends can sign the online book of condolences at www.carscaddenfuneralchapel.com.

Elizabeth Irene "Betty" Ketcheson-Walker
May 18, 1929 -
November 4, 2022

great-grandchildren, Jacob, Benjamin and Zachary Van Dresar, Taygan, Kaiden and Braxlee Barber, Abigail, Luke, Jack and Gracie Ketcheson.

She will always be remembered for her willing, helping hands, and her beautiful smile.

A celebration of Betty's life will be held at Wawota Community Hall, Wawota, on Saturday, November 26 at 2 pm with Roy Bortolotto officiating. Interment in Wawota Cemetery.

Memorial tributes may be made to the Wawota Cemetery or the Walpole Cemetery in memory of Betty.

MEMORIAL

Karen Arlene Montano
November 23, 1942 -
January 5, 2022

Devoted grandmother, mother, partner, sister and friend, Karen Arlene Montano (nee Ferguson), passed away peacefully on January 5, 2022 at St. Joseph's Hospital, Toronto, at the age of 79.

Karen was born in Moosomin, Saskatchewan on November 23, 1942 to Ida and Hugh Ferguson.

Growing up on the Ferguson family farm in Rocanville, she enjoyed telling stories of life before electricity and sleigh rides to school in the dead of winter.

An excellent student, she graduated at the top of her class, earning a scholarship to the University of Saskatchewan where she received her Bachelor of Commerce degree.

Before returning to the university to teach, she would become a Chartered Accountant, one of the first women in Canada to do so.

Raising her two boys in Toronto, Karen enjoyed travelling, theatre, staying organized and keeping up on current events.

She loved a house full of family but also enjoyed time alone—often speaking fondly of the solitude of long days picking raspberries on the farm.

She loved to laugh but saved her biggest smiles for stories from her grandchildren.

Despite her interests and professional success, Karen gave much of her energy in support of friends and family. There was always a bed for visiting family, a meal for her children's friends, and a shoulder for anyone having a bad day.

She was a source of comfort to all, in good times and bad.

Karen was the rock on which many lives were built.

Predeceased by her husband Michael, Karen will be dearly missed by her partner and loving friend David; her sons Matthew and Stephen (Anita); grandchildren Michael, Kennedy, Bobby and Mika; as well as her brothers Stewart (Diana) and Allan.

For those who wish to make a donation in her memory, please consider Evangel Hall (www.evangelhall.ca) or the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation (www.hhhs.ca/foundation or 705-457-1580).

*In Loving Memory of
Our Beautiful Mother*

God saw you getting tired and a cure was not to be.

So He put His arms around you and He whispered "Come to me"
With tearful eyes we watched you.

We watched you fade away.

Although we loved you dearly,

We couldn't make you stay.

A golden heart stopped beating,
Hard working hands at rest.

God broke our hearts to prove to us,

He chose to take the best.

It's lonesome here without you

We miss you more each day.

Life doesn't seem the same since you have gone away.

When days are sad and lonely and everything goes wrong,

we seem to hear your whisper

"Cheer up and Carry on"

Each time we see your picture

you seem to smile and say,

"Don't cry, I'm in God's hands, we'll meet again someday!"

Love your Family

Moosomin's new commander

As some of you may know, Moosomin Detachment has been without a Sergeant for sometime now. We have managed to scrape by without a leader, but it came time to assign a new one. The polls are in and I am happy to announce Sergeant Damien Grouchy will be Moosomin's new detachment commander! Sgt. Grouchy has been at Moosomin Detachment since July 2020 as the Corporal and has been recently promoted as the boss. If you see Sgt. Grouchy out and about be sure to congratulate him on such a great accomplishment!

I also want to take this time to apologize to all the readers as Sgt. Grouchy will be taking back the job of writing the news report. I hope paper sales keep going up but if you see Cst. Pomeroy out and about be sure to get a laugh out of her.

Spy Hill News

Linda Gander • 306-534-2021

We had an excellent turnout for our Remembrance Day Service here in Spy Hill with about 65 people being at our Community Hall.

Morley Thorpe of Spy Hill was our MC and as usual, made an excellent job of having everything running smoothly.

I played for the service and was lucky enough to have Allan Hartel of Spy Hill get my electric piano down to the hall and help me set it up and then take it back home again.

Cameron Duncan read the poem "In Flanders Fields" and also had a short item he read out about the people who continually fight in wars to keep our country safe.

Two of our local little gals had the job of pinning the poppies on the cross in memory of the men who have now since passed away. The girls had also made posters that were on display showing their respect for this special day.

Daryl Clark looked after the music for the "last call" and the laying of the wreaths took place at the cen-taph, representing the business places in town.

Lunch followed in the hall, and wow, did they ever have an excellent lunch!

The day could not have been better in so far as weather goes—so all in all, it was an event well worth everyone's time to be there to show their respect.

The Spy Hill Museum held a short meeting recently in the play house building with five members present. The financial report was read and there was some discussion about reviewing our insurance for the museum buildings. Any kind of insurance is so expensive, one has to really try and get the best for your buck these days.

A couple of our members are going to go up to our insurance dealer in Langenburg and review our current policy. The garage sales held this year brought in a little more cash and then we are having this museum raffle for a Christmas Quilt, with the draw being made on December 20. So, let's hope that everyone will buy lots of tickets for this quilt.

The first of the lunches being served at our Town Hall started in Spy Hill. Coffee is sold on Sundays too, for anyone who may need that extra shot of caffeine in the morning. I got a takeout lunch today and was quite impressed—very good and I didn't even have to do any dishes, which was even better! Tannis Scherman had everything running very well with everyone being quickly looked after for their lunch orders.

Our next United Church Service will be held on November 27 with a meeting to follow. We have to start thinking about advent and our annual Christmas Eve Service. Hard to believe that Christmas is only a few weeks away.

The Esterhazy Golden Jets are very pleased with the amount of tickets they have sold for their Christmas Raffle. The draw will be made on December 1 when they hold their Christmas supper and dance. Members have worked hard to sell these tickets and appreciate the support they have received by all of the residents in Esterhazy and surrounding communities.

Deb Saville spent two weeks in West Palm Beach with friends. Upon arriving home, she had a surprise visit from her daughter, Victoria.

Lana Coffey is now the owner of the former Meyer (Andrew, Nicole and boys) home on Hall Street.

Congratulations to the Wawota Girls Volleyball team! They advanced to the regionals which were in Lemberg two weeks ago. Last weekend they were in Lampman and won three straight games to advance to the provincials. They will be in Rose Valley this coming weekend!!

The community was saddened to hear of the passing of Elizabeth (Betty) Ketcheson-Walker on November 4. She was at Deer View lodge and was 93 years old. Betty was a very active person in the community and we appreciated her! She was involved in several groups and was active in the United Church. She was predeceased by husbands, Garnet Ketcheson and Thomas Walker. She is survived by Valerie (Gordon Van Dresar) and Kurtis (Karen House) and their families. Her funeral service will be held on November 26 at the Wawota Town Hall.

The Wawota Legion #113 held their annual Remembrance Service on November 11. An appreciative crowd enjoyed the service and the laying of wreaths at the cenotaph. Some stayed for the roast beef meal.

Sask Health numbers show growth across the region

Populations growing in local area

"We've got the services," Tomlinson said. "We have the hospital. We have the services, and we're ready for more people to come to town. I think it'll continue to grow."

"I know there's a lot more potential for business growth in Moosomin. I know there's more stuff in the works, and if it comes to fruition it'll be great for the whole area."

"It looks really promising. I think we'll do nothing but grow."

Census being redone

The rise in the health numbers come at the same time as Statistics Canada showed a decline in population in Moosomin in the 2021 Census. The 2016 census showed a 10.4

per cent population growth in five years in Moosomin, the highest growth rate in rural Saskatchewan, but the 2021 census, which Statistics Canada is planning to redo, showed a decrease in Moosomin's population. Many Moosomin residents told the World-Spectator they had not been contacted for the 2021 census. Several individuals who live in seniors housing said no one in their entire buildings had been included in the census, which showed more than 100 unoccupied residences in Moosomin, and showed fewer total residences in Moosomin than the number of residences the town of Moosomin sends water bills to.

The town has asked Statistics Canada to redo the census, which it has committed to do before the end of this year.

"It will be nice to see what the new census shows," Tomlinson said.

"It's supposed to happen by the end of the year. When we checked around after the census, none of the seniors homes got a census form, and none of the people in the Elks senior houses got counted. I think they missed a lot of the seniors. Even at my house, no one came to our door and nothing was left at our place. It was a complete failure. I don't know what the system was, but it sure didn't work. I'm hoping we can get the census numbers back where they should be."

"I'm sure the health numbers are closer than what the census is."

Cobblestone House should be ready in May

A new 42 unit long-term care and assisted living facility should be ready for people to move into by late spring.

Cobblestone House is being built next to Pipestone Villas on Wright Road in Moosomin.

The project involves local investors, Bridge Road Construction, Care by Design, and Kohr Capital.

The plan came together as a way to offer seniors of Moosomin and surrounding area a home where they can age in place in their community, close to family and friends.

The project has endured a couple of setbacks to date. The biggest was the two months of rain during the foundation stage of the project.

This occurred back in March and April and made it very difficult to gain momentum and complete the foundations.

In order to allow the site to dry as quickly as possible, workers were pumping out water from trenches and puddles every day.

Another setback is an ongoing hurdle that the construction industry is dealing with—elongated lead times on materials. The builders are mitigating this as much as possible by ordering in advance.

This is the current state of construction: The building is now weather tight. Shingles are complete. Siding is nearly complete and should be finished in the next week.

All windows are installed except for two, where buildings are using the openings to load material into the building.

All framing is complete. Electrical rough-in is complete on the third floor. They expect to have the first and second floors completed in four weeks.

Main electric service was received last week and is in the process of being installed.

Rough-in for the plumbing has been ongoing for the last month and will be completed in the next few weeks.

The sidewalk and curbs are nearing completion.

The storm sewer, sanitary sewer and water are complete.

Rough landscaping was started prior to the snowfall.

With the exception of a few seasonal items such as paving and sod that will need to be completed in the spring after occupancy, the builders expect to be complete for occupancy in May.

Andrea Wolf helps PEI team win Masters Games in Australia

With the help of a player from Wapella—Andrea Wolf—the Cheers women's softball team from PEI won a gold medal in the 45-plus age category at the Pan Pacific Masters Games in Australia.

Cheers finished the round robin play with a record of 10 wins and 2 losses, granting them a berth to the championship game on November 12. Cheers defeated the Melbourne Vicsens 5-3 to earn a gold medal and finish off with an 11-2 record.

The team was put together in 2018 with players from PEI, New Brunswick, and one player from Wapella. The team was competing in a women's tournament that summer in Truro, Nova Scotia when they connected with Andrea Wolf who was at the same tournament coaching her Newfoundland Senior Women's team.

Head Coach, Dawn Moase, was looking for another pitcher and short stop for the PEI team and reached out to Andrea who gladly accepted the invite to join the team.

Originally the team had planned to play in the 2021 World's Masters games in Kansai Japan, but Covid postponed it indefinitely so the team decided to attend the Pan Pacific Games in Australia in November 2022.

When Covid shut everything down the team continued to train virtually, and once Andrea was able to travel back and forth to Newfoundland, she would stop in PEI and practice and play with her Masters team.

Not having much for women's ball in the area, Andrea had the help of her family and kids' friends over the past few years to prepare for the Pan Pacific Games. They would catch for her pitching practices, hit balls to her in the infield and toss pitches for batting practice.

This was Andrea's first Masters competition and one to remember as her first Masters Gold Medal was won on her birthday.

Every time you've called for a ride, stayed sober to drive, walked or took the bus – it all matters.

Wawota Remembrance Day service well attended

BY ED JAMES

The Wawota Memorial Service on November 11 was well attended this year, by both young and old at the community town hall.

The event was organized by the Wawota Royal Canadian Legion Branch 113, with Branch President Scott Haines, Legion Chaplain Roy Bortolotto and other members conducting the service.

After the Act of Remembrance and Last Post, the Roll of Honor and Reveille was sounded and the Flame of Remembrance was put out by the Sergeant at Arms.

Legion members and a great many members of the public laid poppy wreaths in the hall and several were placed by younger children, in memory of family members who had served.

The call to worship was lead by Roy Bortolotto, aided by a few lay readers who helped out with the scripture readings.

A moving WWI period poem was read by Jean Bogner. The poem had been written by her relatives, the Dennis brothers, who served with the First Canadian Mounted Rifles in WWI in the battlefields of France. The poem presented an accurate picture of the horrors of war in the trenches.

Following the poem, Rev. Bortolotto gave the benediction and a salute to the King, then several members of the group paraded down to the community cenotaph to lay more wreaths and say a short prayer service.

In the early afternoon, a lunch was held for those who stayed and afterwards a number of bursaries were given out to local students who were going to attend or are currently attending post secondary institutions.

After lunch, branch member Barb Dennis introduced the guest speaker, military historian and educator Ed James of Elkhorn, Manitoba. His presentation was on his experiences at the 75th D-Day Anniversary events in 2019, at the Canadian D-Day landing site, Juno Beach. It also included details of meeting Canadian D-Day veterans and the history of the battle sites aided by a number of visuals.

After the presentation, there was a question and answer period and more viewing of the images he took.

Scott Haines, Branch President said, "We were so happy with the public support and turnout. We were also very happy with the various groups of community children who came up and laid wreaths. Our Legion Branch is an important part of the community and we are always there to help in time of need and to welcome new members, regardless of any military background. Lest We Forget!"

Hawtin guest speaker at Elkhorn Remembrance Day service

BY ED JAMES

This year's Remembrance Day event in Elkhorn saw a good crowd in attendance on a fair weather day.

The event was held at the Elkhorn Legion Hall Branch #58. The service was lead by Branch President, Garth Mitchell, prayers were lead by Sharon Johnson and the Last Post and Reveille was played by Mark Humphries.

The guest speaker this year was retired Master Warrant Officer of The Royal Canadian Artillery Regiment, Jon Hawtin, who served for 30 years.

He talked about his many deployments overseas and his postings in Canada, with Canadian Air Force on both military and humanitarian operations with NATO and service in Bosnia, Yugoslavia and Afghanistan, to name a few.

He was a bit emotional at times when talking about the things he saw on his tours of duty, whether they be humanitarian or military missions, as well as the role and image of Canadian soldiers.

He also spoke about how throughout his military career he was always active in sports—playing on military hockey teams and triathlon events.

In the Miniota area where he lives with his wife, Deanne and family, he is active in coaching various youth hockey teams.

After his presentation, and following the laying of wreaths at the community's cenotaph, a light lunch was served and Legion long-term service pins were given out.

After the event people were allowed to stay and view some of the many posters, poems and essays that were on display.

The display was from school where students took part in the annual Royal Canadian Legion Poster/Essay Competition.

Legion president, Garth Mitchell, was very pleased with the turnout and community support for the event.

SaskTel invests additional $100 million into Fiber optic network program

BY SIERRA D'SOUZA BUTTS
LOCAL JOURNALISM
INITIATIVE REPORTER

On Nov. 15, the Government of Saskatchewan announced that SaskTel will invest an additional $100 million in its Rural Fibre Initiative to expand its infINET service program.

The infINET service delivers internet speeds reaching close to a Gigabit per second (Gbps). Through their Rural Fibre Initiative, the crown corporation is aiming to bring infINET service to over 110,000 residents and businesses living and operating in more than 130 rural communities across the province, by March 2025.

The additional investment of $100 million will be for Phase 5 and Phase 6 of the project.

"This announcement is to really address the great need for broadband connectivity in today's world," said Greg Jacobs External Communications Manager for SaskTel.

"We currently serve over 400 communities with our DSL copper network, but as that infrastructure is starting to age out, it can't really keep up with the demands that more connectivity needs, require.

"In order to ensure that our customers and the residents of the province have access to the infrastructure they need to connect to the world, we're making this investment to upgrade that existing copper infrastructure to fibre optic technology.

"This will not only allow us to deliver significantly better connectivity and significantly faster internet speed today, but the real beauty about fibre is that we should be able to upgrade the speeds we can offer over that network for decades to come, to continue to meet and keep pace with the evolving world."

Jacobs explained how replacing the current cables with fibre optic cables in communities will work.

"We would be replacing the existing copper cable that is connected to your home that's providing home phone service and internet service with a fibre optic cable," said Jacobs.

"That fiber optic cable really opens up the amount of band that we can push to a home, which then allows us to deliver faster internet speeds.

"It allows you to use the internet in a more seamless way, less buffering and better options from speed profiles and packages to choose from."

Construction underway in Esterhazy, and will start in Moosomin soon

Since the project was announced in 2020, Phase 1 and Phase 2 of the Rural Fibre Initiative have been completed.

Construction has already started in a few communities for Phase 3 of the program, such as the Town of Esterhazy.

Jacobs said in the next few weeks, SaskTel will begin working in Moosomin.

"We've already started construction in Esterhazy. What we were doing there is primarily buried construction work," he said.

"We are starting buried construction in Moosomin very shortly in the next couple of weeks."

Jacobs explained how the fibre optic broadband network will provide faster internet speed to people.

"Essentially, in communities, towns, and villages across the province there are really two ways that your communication services are delivered," he said.

"It's either with a cable that's running from your home to a power pole in the back alley or back easement, or it is underground and it's run in the back easement of your backyard, then underground to the home.

"When I speak about buried construction it means that we are replacing infrastructure that is currently underground in either a back alley or in the backyard. Then we will get to the aerial portion of construction in the coming weeks and month."

A few of the communities that will be included in Phase 4 of the Rural Fibre Initiative include Kipling, Oxbow, Rocanville and others across the province.

"We're expecting to start construction in the majority of Phase 4 communities in our next fiscal year, which will begin on April 1, 2023 and goes until March, 2024," said Jacobs.

"We're expecting to start within that time frame. I can't give more of a firm estimate right now because it is an incredibly complex project and there are a number of variables that could impact when we're going to start construction in one community over another, the availability of equipment, contractors, weather.

"We are in a very difficult time when it comes to outdoor construction right now, winter is not a great time to be doing all of this outdoor work. So all of those factors will impact our ability to start construction in all those communities and when we'll be doing that."

ing that."

Some of the communities that will be included in Phase 5 of the project are Carnduff, Grenfell, Stoughton, Churchbridge, Langenburg, Wolseley. The areas planned for Phase 6 are still being finalized by SaskTel.

Construction for Phase 5 is expected to start within the fiscal year of April 2023 to March 2024, however it is not guaranteed.

Although the exact timeline is not finalized, all phases of the project, including Phase 6, are expected to be fully completed by the project's deadline.

"It is a massive undertaking, and incredibly complex project that we're working on, but really to meet the end date of March 2025, we really do need to pull out all the stops and go as fast as we can to ensure that we get the service to our customers as fast as possible."

He spoke about why it is important to provide good connectivity to residents living in rural areas across the province.

"Our world is rapidly becoming more reliant on broadband connectivity and connectivity in general," said Jacobs.

"We're really entering an age of the digital economy and digital experience. You need a broadband connection or internet connection that can deliver the type of connectivity you need to engage in all the opportunities that are available in our modern world.

"In all settings, in urban and rural, broadband is incredibly important. You could argue that broadband and connectivity is more important in rural settings where residents and customers are more reliant on that connection to engage with the outside world, social interaction, and economic opportunities. Having that connectivity gives you the ability to take advantage of those opportunities that the modern world has to offer."

The total investment for the Rural Fibre Initiative program is $200 million.

"We're going to invest $200 million in the program in total, and that is for Phases one through six," said Jacobs. "The first four phases are included in the first $100 million and Phase 5 and Phase 6 are included in the second $100 million."

Originally announced in 2020, the Rural Fibre Initiative is a multi-phase program that will see SaskTel invest a total of $200 million to bring infINET service to over 110,000 residents and businesses living and operating in more than 130 rural communities.

SaskTel anticipates all communities included in the program will be fibre-ready by March 2025.

Moosomin Food Share puts on Reverse Advent Calendar up until Christmas

BY SIERRA D'SOUZA BUTTS

LOCAL JOURNALISM INITIATIVE REPORTER

With more families and people to give to around the winter time, Moosomin Food Share is hosting a Reverse Advent Calendar to help with donations to give to people in the community.

The Reverse Advent Calendar has a food item matched to each day of the month to encourage people to add an item a day to a box at home. People can then bring the box of collected items over the 24 days to the food bank to help with its monthly food hampers.

"We started our Reverse Advent Calendar last year, just to see if it would take off during Covid because we weren't really getting that many donations and people weren't coming in to drop stuff off," said Samantha Campbell, manager of the Moosomin Food Share.

"We saw another food bank do this so we thought we would give it a try. Last year we did have a few people participate and try it out.

"We had this one lady who wanted to teach her daughter about the importance of giving back. Instead of buying a present for them, this is what they did. Her daughter was seven years old and was really happy to be donating to the food bank. It was really good to see."

Campbell said the items selected on the calendar are everyday food items that people can donate straight from their pantries at home.

"Because everyone has these items in the pantry or at home, our idea for it was that you can take an item out of your pantry and put it aside into a box," she said.

"Or, if you're at the grocery store and an item is on sale, grab one more of it to put it in your box. With those items, we thought people can drop it off daily, weekly, bi-weekly, or at the end of the 24 days when you have everything, you can just drop it off then.

"We are seeing low donations at this time, our hope was to inspire people to donate more and hopefully get us through, not just December, but the coming months of January, February and March, to help put us through and make it last a little more."

Throughout the year, Moosomin Food Share provides monthly food hampers to about 30 families. Yet, during the holiday season, they see an increase of local people and families in need.

"We usually help between 20 to 30 families that we give hampers to a month,"

Help your family focus on kindness this holiday season! It Takes A Village!

REVERSE ADVENT CALENDAR

EACH DAY ADD AN ITEM TO A BOX. AFTER COLLECTING FOR 24 DAYS, BRING THE CONTENTS TO YOUR LOCAL FOOD BANK OR BRING THE BOX WEEKLY TO YOUR FOOD BANK. YOUR KIND GESTURE WILL NOT GO UNNOTICED AND YOUR COMMUNITY WILL THANK YOU!

- 2nd Day - Peanut Butter
- 3rd Day - 1 Box of stuffing mix
- 4th Day - Boxed or frozen potatoes
- 5th Day - Macaroni & Cheese
- 6th Day - Can of fruit
- 7th Day - Can of tomatoes

- 22nd Day - Package of oatmeal
- 23rd Day - Salt and / or pepper
- 24th Day - Juice and / or juicebox

To encourage donations from the community during the winter season, Moosomin Food Share is putting on a Reverse Advent Calendar up until December 24, in hopes of stocking up on food items to help families throughout all of winter.

said Campbell.

"Last month we had about 25 or 27 hampers. Christmas time we see at least 35 to 40, sometimes even more. Also at Christmas time they do get a bigger box of food."

Campbell mentioned why it's important for people to help out, if they can, with donations, especially around this time of the year.

"It's so important. I like to say that you don't expect to be in a situation needing a food bank, but times are tough and you never know if you lose your job tomorrow you could be the one to have to access that food bank," she said.

"For you to think that you don't need to give it because you're not using it or you don't know anyone who is, someday you might have to. This way it's just giving, you're sort of putting back into the community that you might need from, hopefully you don't, but you just never know."

"This is a way to give back to those who do need it."

Campbell said organizations and businesses are also encouraged to participate in this year's Reverse Advent Calendar.

The food share used to use banana boxes and other recycled boxes for their monthly hampers, however Campbell said because of a grant they recently received, they were able to purchase reusable boxes for the hampers now.

"We actually got a grant from SaskTel that we were able to purchase some bins with, now everyone will be getting the same amount of food," she said.

"Obviously families will still get a bigger portion, but with the boxes we had before some were smaller sizes and bigger sizes so we just filled them based on how big they were. This way everyone is going to get the same amount."

"They get the non-perishables, which are the soups and pastas. Then at Christmas time we add potatoes, Christmas oranges. We usually get someone to donate hams or turkeys, we'll be reaching out to a few organizations for those."

"Then we do stuffing, some sort of dessert, coffee or tea, mixed vegetables, everything. Plus they're still getting their milk, eggs, bread, and then we do the frozen foods they usually get."

Campbell said the food items on the list are foods they go through every day and give out often.

"People can mix up the days. For example, on the first day if you don't have a box of cereal sitting at home and you're not going to the grocery store, but you have an extra peanut butter, you can switch the days," she said.

"These are the types of foods we use the most often and at Christmas time as well. We're just hoping we get enough food to carry us into the New Year as well, so that we're not going to have to purchase it."

Campbell said people can start collecting items from the Reverse Advent Calendar list as soon as they want, whether it's in the middle of November or at the beginning of December.

People can find a copy of the calendar on the group's Facebook page: Moosomin Thrift Store.

Moosomin town council: Co-op raises concerns over Municode

BY KEVIN WEEDMARK

Concerns raised by Borderland Co-op over the company that provides the town of Moosomin with building inspection services were discussed at the latest meeting of Moosomin town council.

"Over the years, Borderland Co-op has invested significant capital into people, facilities, and new/expanded product/business lines in the communities we serve," Borderland CEO Jason Schenn wrote to council. The same email went to the towns of Whitewood, Rocanville, and Broadview.

"We continue to have several projects in our queue across our entire geography that we would like to pursue over the next 10 years and have been actively planning for those, but we do have concerns as it pertains to the companies the municipalities use for code review/inspection services. Our assumption is that the reason they are contracted is to help municipalities ensure that buildings constructed are safe and meet Canadian building standards. We support that intent.

"I am sure you understand that the cost of engineers, architects, construction, renovation, and materials have increased significantly over the last five years (30 per cent plus) and there seems to be no change to that trajectory in sight. We accept code review as part of the process to ensure we build/renovate facilities that are safe and compliant with Canadian building standards. That is why we hire consultants/engineers that design to the codes.

"We often hear frustration from these consultants and engineers on rural projects where PBI and Municode are the authority. The tell us that they often apply costly standards or impractical code interpretations that are not common in urban development or jurisdictions where PBI/Municode do not have the authority. That in turn frustrates us because it costs us more than it should to build facilities in our smaller rural communities where the business cases are usually on the borderline of feasible to begin with.

"I want to make it clear that we are not upset with the municipalities and still want to build and create opportunities in the communities we serve. We just want to communicate to you that with the increased cost of materials, consultants, labour, inventory to bring a project to life, unnecessary costs from regulatory interpretation that don't need to be there are now tipping the scales to abandoning/pausing some projects we want to do.

"I would be more than happy to attend a council meeting or appropriate committee meeting to discuss this in deeper detail if you wish."

"We've heard the same thing about Municode from other businesses," Councillor Chris Davidson said. "It seemed excessive when we worked with them."

Councillor Garry Towler suggested that Co-op could take any specific questions about Municode's interpretations of building codes to the provincial building standards branch for their opinion.

Council discussed the Co-op's concerns and decided to suggest that Borderland raise the issues directly with Municode, which the town contracts to provide its building inspection services.

The town of Rocanville has also received multiple complaints about Municode, including the letter from Borderland Co-op, and at their meeting last week, Rocanville town council made the decision to start looking at other options for building inspection services.

Town will continue charging business licences for all Realtors with listings in town

Realtor decided to send a second invoice with interest after an Esterhazy realtor questioned having to pay the town's $150 business licence fee for having listings in town.

Councillors decided that since in-town realtors pay a business licence, out-of-town realtors with listings in town should also pay for a business licence to be fair, and have billed out-of-town realtors in the past when they have a listing in Moosomin.

At its latest meeting, council received a letter from the Saskatchewan Realtors Association suggesting that realtors should not be charged a business licence if they have listings outside their home communities.

"It has recently been brought to my attention that one of our professional member was issued an invoice for a business licence due to the agent having a property listed for sale in your municipality," Cole Zawislak of the Saskatchewan Realtors Association wrote to the town.

"The Saskatchewan Realtors Association has received legal advice that municipal business licensing bylaws and the legislation on which they are based do not apply to individual listings by realtors whose business is located outside the municipality.

"There are numerous bases for this conclusion," Zawislak wrote. "They include, but are not limited to, the provisions of the governing legislation referring to a single transaction, merely create a prima facie case of engaging in business. This can be rebutted by showing that the person is in fact not engaging in business. The law is consistent that isolated transactions do not amount to carrying on business. The applicable common law provides that delivery of the subject matter of a transaction within a jurisdiction does by itself established (sic) that the transaction has occurred in that jurisdiction."

Councillors noted that they believe the same realtor had had multiple listings in Moosomin.

"I move that we send a bill with interest," Councillor Chris Davidson said.

That motion carried.

Councillor Ron Fisk, whose daughter is a realtor, left the meeting for the vote to avoid any potential conflict of interest.

Also at council . . .

Council agreed to send a letter of support for an applications from the Moosomin Thrift Store and Food Share for a grant from Tree Canada for 20 fruit trees and fruit bushes near the community garden . . . Community Futures Sunrise will fund a strategic planning session for the town of Moosomin . . . and the town crew will look at changes to brackets on downtown light posts to accommodate new Christmas decorations.

New law to ease accessibility

BY SIERRA D'SOUZA BUTTS
LOCAL JOURNALISM
INITIATIVE REPORTER

The Government of Saskatchewan has introduced new legislation—The Accessible Saskatchewan Act—to help prevent and overcome any accessibility issues for people with disabilities, in regards to built environments, information and communications, employment, transportation, service animals, procurement and service delivery.

"In 2015 the government came out with the Disability Strategy and this is a major piece of that." Social Services Minister Gene Makowsky told the World-Spectator in an interview on Friday.

"We've brought together several different ministries to work on this, but also consultation with the disability community. We felt this legislation was needed by our outreach and what we're hearing. This is a result of that and a big piece of our 10 year strategy we brought forward in 2015." Makowsky explained how The Accessible Saskatchewan Act will help people with disabilities live more comfortably across Saskatchewan.

"This act will help prevention at the front end, but also dealing with situations as they arise as well," said Makowsky.

"There is already legislation out there on some of the barriers that are there with the building codes, with human rights codes, etc., but this will hopefully fill some of those gaps.

"We want to have a piece of this legislation be on the education side to prevent some of those barriers, to get people to think about those barriers that are out there, but also deal with those things as they arise in the future.

"There was no specific legislation prior, this is enabling legislation. It allows us to come up with regulations, that's where the details will come out as we move forward, and we'll continue to consult with the sector.

"With consultation, we decided with the built environments, information and communications, service delivery, procurement, service animals, employment, and transportation. Those were identified as some of the gaps that the other legislation hasn't addressed, which we'll begin to work on those with the regulations in the next little while here.

Social Services Minister Gene Makowsky.

"With the government being first in trying to fill some of the gaps that are out there or may come up in the future."

The act also makes it easier for a person with a disability to make a request to have a place become more accessible to their needs.

"What the legislation calls for is to have that accessibility office that the ministry will staff with a certain amount of issues as they come up," he said.

"The idea is that education will be at the front of all this to have third parties, like governments, Crowns, or eventually down the road, private businesses understand the barriers that are there and work with them to try and prevent that. My understanding from previously is that anyone who had a barrier had to go through the Human Rights Tribunal and that would take a certain amount of time to process.

"Hopefully this will smooth things out and we can compile all the complaints that are out there within that office within our ministry."

An Accessibility Advisory Committee will be appointed, with at least half of the members being persons with disabilities or from organizations that represent people with disabilities. This committee will advise government on the development of accessibility standards.

"This act will need to go through the legislature," he said.

"We just did a second reading, we'll have a chance for the opposition to scrutinize any bill that goes through. Then hopefully in the spring, we'll be able to pass it."
